

Attempts to reach US-Saudi deal 'part of struggle for the world order'

written by Meir Ben Shabbat | 17.11.2024

Meir Ben Shabbat: The Trump administration is good news for anyone who understands that Iran is a central threat to peace and stability in the world, that it is the root of all evil in the Middle East, and that the fight against it requires a proactive and assertive approach.

Trump and his people also understand the central role that Saudi Arabia can play in the stability of the Middle East and in shaping the new order. In Saudi Arabia, they can certainly see as an opportunity the practical and realistic approach that Trump and his people will bring with them.

Israel Says UN Peacekeepers in Lebanon Are Serving as Hezbollah's Human Shields

written by Prof. Kobi Michael | 17.11.2024

Prof. Kobi Michael: UNIFIL has allowed Hezbollah to fortify itself. It builds its structures beneath the eyes of UNIFIL inspectors, beneath U.N. posts. They're an obstacle from Israel's point of view.

Hezbollah can launch their rockets and operate military compounds knowing Israel has difficulty attacking [them] because of their closeness to UNIFIL posts. Guterres, the U.N. secretary-general, won't pull out UNIFIL even temporarily to allow the IDF to "clean" the area.

To the contrary, he insists on leaving the posts there to prevent the IDF from cleaning the area.

Where Is It All Going? Mixed Messages From Israel-Lebanon War

written by Prof. Kobi Michael | 17.11.2024

Prof. Kobi Michael: Israel would not withdraw from Lebanon until the Lebanese military and the UN peacekeeping force in Lebanon can effectively restrain Hezbollah.

Israel will continue to strike at strategic assets of Hezbollah until an agreement is reached.

Hezbollah may be more motivated to strike Jewish targets in Latin America written by Dr. Yossi Mansharof | 17.11.2024

Dr. Yossi Mansharof: Hezbollah always has the motivation to attack Jewish sites around the world, but may be increasingly motivated to do so now. If Hezbollah thinks they are moving away from the eyes of the CIA and the Mossad, they'll go for it.

Hezbollah will need to launch a major fundraising effort to try to rebuild the biggest project in its history after receiving its worst blow since its establishment in 1982. They need billions of dollars that Iran can't give them because they are in an economic crisis.

Latin America is an easy place for Hezbollah to raise and move funds despite sanctions. There's a problem in Argentina. Even when there are sanctions, Hezbollah manages to circumvent them. They need a very strong effort ... to enforce sanctions and make arrests.

Hezbollah will make sure that the large Shi'ite community in Latin America will remain loyal. They will feed propaganda to preserve the base ... They need to make it look like they won.

Enthusiasm in Jerusalem as Trump national security team takes shape

written by Meir Ben Shabbat | 17.11.2024

Meir Ben Shabbat: Trump and his people understand well that weakness invites evil. The Iranians interpreted the Biden administration's diplomatic approach as weakness and were increasingly bold in their aggression.

Trump said “I’m not going to start wars, I’m going to stop wars,” but was optimistic that Trump and his nominees “understand what the end has to look like” and will “help it with the necessary means and support to shorten the war and reach a clear result.

Israel close to depopulating north Gaza, military sources say

written by Prof. Kobi Michael | 17.11.2024

Prof. Kobi Michael:

It is an effort to dismantle the last and most effective Hamas centre of gravity as a functioning governmental and military entity.

Once it will fall there will be no Hamas as an organised formation and this will be the beginning of the end of the war in its current form.

In Trump, Netanyahu Sees a More Favorable U.S. President

written by Prof. Kobi Michael | 17.11.2024

Prof. Kobi Michael: I think Netanyahu prefers the unpredictability of Trump over Harris. But there's a degree of wishful thinking because Trump can easily turn on us in seconds.
