The Middle East is safer and peace is more likely when the US is seen as strong on the world stage

written by Asher Fredman | 28.06.2024

Asher Fredman: The Middle East is safer and peace is more likely when the US is seen as strong on the world stage. Even before the debate, the US did not appear to be strong on the world stage. Because of Biden's lackluster performance, it's unlikely that China, Iran or Russia will feel that the US has the resolve to counter their designs in the Middle East.

Published in TPS, June 28, 2024.

