Future Security Strategies for Iran and Gaza

written by Prof. Kobi Michael | 16.02.2026

Prof. Kobi Michael discusses the strategic challenges regarding Iran’s nuclear and ballistic threats, suggesting that the U.S. and Israel may need to employ military, cyber, and cognitive operations if negotiations fail. He also emphasizes that dismantling Hamas in Gaza may require a full IDF mission if President Trump’s diplomatic plans are undermined by the “creative” disarmament proposals of regional actors like Turkey and Qatar.

The full interview took place on ILTV on February 15, 2026.