

The problem was about the interpretation and the analysis of the information

written by Prof. Kobi Michael | 19.06.2024

Prof. Kobi Michael: From the very beginning, the problem was not with regard to the information, which was there. The problem was about the interpretation and the analysis of the information.

In the level of the Gaza division, things were known in such a detailed manner. It is very annoying and frustrating that the information was there, and we were not there with the information.

The interview took place at The Media Line on June 19, 2024.