

What do Iran peace negotiations mean for Israel's operation in Lebanon?

written by Prof. Kobi Michael | 26.03.2026

Prof. Kobi Michael: All the land between the international border and the Litani River will be cleaned. There will be no Hezbollah there, and no Shiites will be there. There will be no Shia villages there anymore. And Hezbollah will weaken, it will be weakened to the degree that maybe the Lebanese Army will be able to take responsibility and control, and then this will be maybe the ripest moment to accelerate the negotiation between Israel and Lebanon for reaching peace between both countries.

Published in Washington Examiner, March 26, 2026.

*The opinions expressed in Misgav publications are the authors' alone.

